

FN Art. 30

Protection

TITLE 05 — NATIONALS OF THE STATE · CHAPTER 01 — NATIONALITY ALLEGIANCE AND PROTECTION

- 1 The State extends recognition and protection to its nationals in accordance with law.
- 2 The State may, according to its capacity, extend protection including: the issuance of documents; the maintenance of registers; assistance and representations in external relations; and the defence of the legal status of nationals.
- 3 The extent of protection, and any conditions upon it, shall be determined by law and by the practical capacities of the State.
- 4 The State may withhold or withdraw protective services in cases of fraud, abuse, or grave disloyalty, as provided by law.
- 5 The obligations of the State under this Article do not extend to the exercise of authority within foreign jurisdictions.
